ROON THOUGHT CAPTURED.

Austrian Message Indicates Seizure of German Liner by British.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The following cryptic message has been received from Brisbane, capital of Queensland, Australia:

"Roon's passengers arrived and give thrilling account of their experiences."

It is assumed that a censor has held up an early message regarding the Roon.

The North German Lloyd steamer Roon sailed from Antwerp on July 5 for Sydney, New South Wales, and was last reported as arriving at Colombo on July 20. The fact that her passengers have reached a British port suggests that the steamer may have been seized by a British warship.

SUICIDE RATE HIGH IN GERMAN ARMY

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—(By mail.)—Just before the war there were more suicides in the German army among enlisted men than in that of any other country in the world, except Austria-Hungary, according to Herr Pinkau, socialist member of the Reichstag, in an article in a Czemnitz paper. He alleged that in the past 40 years 10,315 German soldiers have committed suicide and 2655 attempted suicide. The recent average has been 150 a year.

TURKS AND GERMANS TO STAND TOGETHER

SULTAN RISKS PLACE IN EUROPE
—MAY TAKE PART IN THE WAR.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Through the war's general disorganization of communication lines, Constantinople has been cut off from western Europe for several days past but small doubt was felt here that the sultan was preparing rapidly to take part in the great European conflict.

Neither was it doubted that he would cast in his lot with the German and Austro-Hungarian allies, not so much on account of partiality for the Teutonic peoples, but because he deemed himself more likely to regain through them the European territory he lost by the Balkan war.

About one thing, it was stated emphatically in diplomatic circles, there need not be any question:

If the Turks do engage in the struggle and the Anglo-Franco-Russo-Serbian combination wins—as all confidence was expressed it would do—Ottoman power in Europe would end summarily.

Situation is Disturbing.
Nevertheless, some anxiety was expressed concerning the infection of the Turkish factor into the situation.

For one thing, all agreed it would quickly involve all the Balkans in the war. Greece, it was thought, would be involved immediately. With Turkey, Serbia, Montenegro and Greece engaged, it was deemed certain that Bulgaria and Roumania could not keep out of the fight many days and perhaps not many hours.

Bulgaria, despite conflicting reports would line up with the German faction, it was thought; Roumania with the British, French, Russians and Servians.

Italy, too, it was predicted, would be drawn into the fight at once. This might mean revolution, diplomats admitted, but the Roman government's Mediterranean interests would be so seriously threatened that it would be suicide for it to ignore the situation, and domestic revolt would have to be risked.

Revolutions Are Menace.
Revolutions, indeed, some authorities said, had been reckoned with as possibilities by most of the governments engaged in the war, and all of them recognized that this danger would increase as the struggle progressed and the people began to feel its pressure more severely. The time of greatest peril would come, however, if nothing materialized earlier, it was generally agreed, after the war was over and the devastated nations had time to appreciate fully what ruin had been wrought.

Returning to the Turkish menace, due weight was given here to the possibility that the sultan, as head of the Mohammedan church, might arouse against British their Moslem subjects in Egypt and India and stir up the people of the same faith in France's north African possessions. It was said all possible precautions were being taken in all these countries to meet such a situation vigorously and promptly.

Finally, though this point was discussed only in whispers, the allies realized that it would be suicidal for them to disavow as yet—the Turks being expelled from Europe, all knew the control of the Dardanelles would at once become an issue of capital importance between Great Britain and Russia.

Red Cross Ship Is Ready.
NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Preparations for the sailing of the steamer Hamburg, donated to the Red Cross Society by the Hamburg-American line, to carry about 200 doctors and nurses and a large quantity of medical supplies to the European war zone were virtually completed. Workmen have labored day and night on the vessel to adapt her for her new service. That there may be no mistake in her identity, the entire hull has been painted white, with a red band three feet wide encircling the ship.

The surgeons and nurses will go aboard tomorrow, the medical supplies will be taken aboard Sunday, and Monday at 4 p. m. the steamer will start for Europe on her errand of mercy.

Attractions.

Orpheum.
Sunday and Monday.
A side splitting two part Vitagraph comedy featuring Josie Sadler and Billy Quirk.

"Jose's Coney Island Nightmare." After reading a thrilling tale of "The Castaways" and a strenuous trip to Coney Island, Jose and her sweet-heart Hank fall asleep on the seashore. The combination of the day's experience and too much cheese for lunch gives her a terrible nightmare and she imagines she is on a desert island having all sorts of half-raising experiences. When she awakens she tells Hank she is cured of her fondness for "thrillers." This is one of the funniest of the "Jose" series.

"While the Tide Was Rising." Edison. Featuring Ben Wilson and Sally Crute.

Fred Bowers saves the life of an aviator who repays his rescuer by eloping with the girl to whom Bowers is engaged. He follows them and when he saves their lives from the rising tide the girl realizes her folly and returns with Fred.

"Latin Blood." Lubin. Gains, an Italian gambler, falls in love with his beautiful mistress Lucia who is engaged to an English nobleman. After trouble and the death of his brother he sees his mistake.

Pastime—Today.

Mary Pickford, the popular screen favorite is featured today in "A Rich Revenge." This is a delightful comedy drama and one we are sure will please.

"The Cave of Death." A Kalem two part western picture, featuring Rex Downes and Mona Darkfeather. Unca, an Indian maid falls in love with Deering, a prospector. The girl is loved by Choco, a brave. The latter conceives a deadly hatred toward the white man when he perceives the state of affairs.

Deering rescues Brown and Dowling and the latter's sister, when the three are on the verge of perishing of thirst. He falls in love with Edna, Dowling's sister. The two men are traders. They later defraud the Indians, after which Brown holds Deering up while his partner robs him of his gold just.

The Indians pursue and vent their rage upon Deering. Aided by Unca, the white man escapes and hides in a cave. How the Indian maid saves the man she loves at the cost of her own life, when Choco attempts to slay him, is shown in a wonderful climax.

"Hearst-Selig." All Europe Torn By War. America feels effects of giant conflict. Outbreak of hostilities between Serbia and Austria spreads war clouds over the continent. Germany declares war against France and Russia. All nations arm. See first picture of Serbian troops; the great British fleet; the Serbs returning to their country; the showing of Wall street, showing how America has been affected by the war.

"The Revenged Servant Girl." Edison comedy. Featuring William Wadsworth, Elsie McLeod and Mrs. C. Jay Williams. Eureka, a beautiful wealthy damsel, accepts the palpitating Wood B. But, alas, the faithful servant girl steps in and spoils matters, and the blushing bride is left waiting at the church.

Pastime—Sunday Only.
For Sunday we are offering a program up to the usual high standard of photoplays seen at this theater. The feature is "A Gentleman of Leisure," a two part offering by Essanay with Richard Travers and Beverly Bayne in the leads. "The Mysterious Lodger" is a Vitagraph one reel drama, with Maurice Costello and Constance Talmadge in the leads. The comedy is by Kalem and features Ruth Roland.

"A Gentleman of Leisure." Essanay in two parts. Featuring Richard Travers and Beverly Bayne. For three months Smith Elliott has lived in the town of Waverly. He is liked by all, but the fact that he keeps his business a secret and associates with "Old Man Weaver," a suspected murderer, brings criticism down upon him. In spite of the mystery which surrounds him, he is loved by Dolly Frazer, much to the chagrin of Charley Bratton, one of her most ardent admirers. Bratton sees Elliott give Old Man Weaver some money. Bratton hurries to Dolly and tells her that Elliott has secret transactions with a suspected criminal. Dolly refuses to believe him. Phyllis, Dolly's sister, is kidnapped and Elliott is waylaid by a couple of crooks in Bratton's employ and Bratton makes it appear as if Elliott has done the kidnapping. After a series of thrilling incidents during which there is a mob scene, "Old Man Weaver" rescues Phyllis from the ruffians, Elliott escapes and everything ends happily. The mysterious business between Elliott and Weaver is cleared up when it is found out that they have discovered a substitute for putty and the money which Bratton saw passed between them was to finance the deal. The story is one of thrilling interest throughout.

"The Mysterious Lodger." Vitagraph one part drama featuring Maurice Costello and Constance Talmadge. He hides his identity to escape a false accusation and innocent suffering from an inexplicable death. In a distant land life opens up a prosperous future.

"A Substitute for Pants." Kalem Comedy. Featuring Ruth Roland. The efforts of a candidate for political honors to defeat his rival by stealing the latter's trousers, makes this a laughable picture.

Cosy—Sunday Matinee and Night.
Elli and Tice, a sister team, will be the vaudeville act for Sunday. They have a good line of singing, dancing and instrumental music. A good act.

"Stacked Cards." Two reel Kay-bee. The way in which a gang of politicians sought to ruin a candidate for office is the theme of this story. They succeeded, but their actions proved their own undoing in after years.

"The Baggage Smasher." Keystone. Some funny stunts around a country railroad station.

"Turned Back." Reliance. Francella Billington is featured in this fine drama.

The Alta Theater.
Last night's audience was kept in a road by "Willie."

"Willie" is a two part comedy that will give more fun to the foot than anything you have seen in a long time. Willie is a mamma's boy who is turned down by the father of the girl he loves because he is a "home pet." In despair, Willie goes west and gets work on a cattle ranch.

Then the fun begins. He is initiated into all the mysteries of range life by a bunch of cowboys that are not as gentle as they might be.

The story makes fun for everybody. "The Tale of Old Tucson" is the story of the foreclosure of a mortgage held by a Mexican on a western ranch. Mistake, treachery and intrigue, are the predominating features. The photography is very beautiful.

"Old Man Higginbotham's Daughter." Is a rural picture play that carries the heart interest throughout. Irene Boyle has the lead.

The Alta Theater—Sunday.
Francis Bushman in "The Motor Buccaneers" is our Sunday special. A young lawyer breaks up a conspiracy to steal a railroad and thereby wins himself a wife. A famous crook poses as a millionaire, assaults an old lawyer and leaves him senseless.

The young man is accused of murder and the screen will tell you the rest. It contains much a thrill with motor chases and startling situations.

"Nan's Victory." The plot of this comedy drama contains a love story illustrating the old saying, "It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all." A little fisher maid risks her own life to save that of her rival.

The story is out of the usual run and contains many comedy situations. Some of the scenes are very beautiful.

"The Kid's Nap." Is a Lubin comedy with Romaine Fielding taking the part of Hockshop the detective which insures it being better than the average.

Continuous performance from 2 p. m.

Grand Theater.
Tonight and Sunday matinee and night bid fair to be epoch-making events at this theater as setting a high standard of entertainment of superior merit. Various members of the company will participate in vaudeville turns to augment an already capital production, which with a change of bill, pictures and illustrated song tomorrow, will undoubtedly prove a big drawing card.

SOCIALIST SOLDIER GETS THREE YEARS

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—Three years in prison was the sentence imposed upon a private soldier named Fischer by the military court of the Third army corps for having expressed just before the outbreak of hostilities the opinion that in the event of war the socialists in the army would shoot their own officers. Herr von Lengerke, a former soldier, testified that while riding in one of the suburban trains Fischer had expressed himself in this way and further had declared that a large percentage of the soldiers in the Prussian army were socialists. Herr von Lengerke called the attention of the commander of the regiment to the conversation he had had with one of his soldiers whom he claimed he did not know but whom he described as having "red hair." All the red headed men in the regiment were lined up and Herr von Lengerke picked out Fischer.

During the trial it developed that the quarters of the men are often searched for socialistic literature. Fischer is also alleged to have said that there is an extensive secret propaganda and quiet agitation going on in portions of the German army. Although Fischer's companions who were riding in the same compartment testified that they had heard nothing of such a conversation which Fischer also denied, the military court found him guilty.

DUKE IS HERO OF BATTLE.
Westminster Carries Wounded Comrade to Safety Under Fire.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The Duke of Westminster has distinguished himself on the battlefield. He was in a company with Captain Grenfell and Lieutenant Percy Wyndham, son of Countess Grosvenor, during a hot engagement when Grenfell fell wounded.

At great risk, amidst a galling fire the duke rushed through the battle zone and carried Grenfell to safety.

Star Ballplayer Is 66.
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—George Artzberger, the veteran ball player of the North Side, is celebrating his 66th birthday and is still able to play a good game of ball. He has taken part in 67 contests this year and in that time has struck out only once and made only one wild throw. He plays with a first-class semi-professional team here, and in a game last week made three hits, scored two runs and stole four bases.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH COUGHS OR COLDS.
Many Have Filled Consumptive Graves Because They Neglected a Cough or Cold.

You never know how soon a cold will become a serious malady. It may be in the head to-day; in the lungs to-morrow and the next day you may be fighting deadly pneumonia for your life. It's much the same with a cough. Inflamed and clogged throat and lungs offer the best chance to consumption germs to begin their murderous work. There's only one way to prevent these deadly diseases getting a hold on you. As soon as a cough or cold attacks you, take Dr. King's New Discovery until you are entirely cured. Sometimes a dose or two will do the business, saving you suffering and a doctor's bill. Thousands of cures like these below prove its wonderful power to cure coughs and colds.

"I feel sure it's a Godsend to humanity," writes Mrs. Effie Morton,

Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption to-day, if I had not used this great remedy."

"I take great pleasure in recommending your Dr. King's New Discovery for the benefit of suffering humanity. It's a thoroughly reliable remedy for all coughs, croup and lung troubles. We have used it in our family for fourteen years with the best results. It saved my mother when two doctors gave her up. She had a very severe case of pneumonia and was in bed seven weeks and part of the time 'out of her mind' so that she did not know me. I told father to get me two 50c bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, which he did, and on taking it she soon began to improve, and four bottles cured her entirely. You may publish this if you wish and I will answer all inquiries, with postage enclosed for reply.

"Yours respectfully,
"Wm. Cogger."

VITAL FORCE

Disease germs are on every hand. They are in the very air we breathe. A system "run down" is a prey for them. One must have vital force to withstand them. Vital force depends on digestion—on whether or not food nourishes—on the quality of blood coursing through the body.

DR. PIERCE'S Golden Medical Discovery

Strengthens the weak stomach. Gives good digestion. Enlivens the sluggish liver. Feeds the starved nerves. Again full health and strength return. A general upbuilding enables the heart to pump like an engine running in oil. The vital force is once more established to full power. Year in and year out for over forty years this great health-restoring remedy has been spreading throughout the entire world—because of its ability to make the sick well and the weak strong. Don't despair of "being your old self again." Give this vegetable remedy a trial—Today—Now. You will soon feel "like new again."
